About Acacia University

Acacia University, Arizona, US, stands as a symbol of regeneration, perseverance, and integrity and is on a mission to make learning a long-lasting, invigorating experience.

Acacia's origin dates back to 2003 when Educational Cyberconnections, Inc. began a partnership with the Commission on International and Trans-Regional Accreditation (CITA) to provide onsite training to CITA schools in Egypt, Pakistan, United Emirates, and China. This training created a demand for additional and continuing training that resulted in establishing an onsite and online program under the title of CITA Teacher Certification Program. Then in 2005, Power-Ed and CITA developed and delivered a web-based curriculum (24 credits) that could be delivered via the Internet throughout the world. The school became the American Graduate School of Education and the name change to Acacia University was approved by the State Board for Private Postsecondary Education - State of Arizona on May 11, 2012, effective June 1, 2011.

Acacia University provides accessible, quality education to a multi-cultural, global learning community through online/distance learning. As technology advances and students look for greater flexibility and accessibility with education, Acacia utilizes the capabilities of digital pedagogies to create new experiences and services.

Acacia offers academic programs at the master's level in elementary education, secondary education, English as a second language, and educational administration as well as a doctorate in educational leadership. It also features non-degree studies to provide focused training in specialized areas for adult learners.

Designed by educators to envisage the possibilities of the learner's career, the educational programs offered by Acacia are affordable, convenient, supportive, and relevant.

Acacia University envisions a change by empowering learners to expand their abilities, revive their passion in their respective fields, and develop their capacities for new roles. Acacia commits to provide unparalleled learning standards by delivering the highest quality educational programs through smart, innovative forms of learning.

Acacia redefines education and helps learners realize their full potential, propelling them into excellence by delivering education through innovative forms of online learning.

Why Acacia University?

Acacia University, a pioneer in distance learning since its founding in 2003, consistently meets the needs of professionals whose geographic, professional, or personal time constraints may potentially limit success at traditional brick-and-mortar schools. Acacia University provides quality educational opportunities for learners:

- Affordability
- Convenience
- Practicality
- Qualified Professors
- Cohorts and Learning Communities
- Applicability
- Accredited: Distance Education Accrediting Commission (DEAC) ensures that the institution meets a recognized set of standards in distance education

Program Prerequisites and Requirements

Mission

Acacia University's name reflects our belief in life-long learning. The symbol and name of the acacia as the "tree of knowledge", as it is known in many cultures, embodies our ongoing commitment to providing unparalleled standards and vehicles for learning. Acacia is committed to delivering educational programs of the highest quality through innovative forms of distance learning. To this end, Acacia University offers outstanding distance education programs that extend extraordinary and interactive opportunities for students to reach personal and career goals.

Vision

Acacia University believes that innovative, relevant, and rigorous educational programs offered in a responsible distance learning format throughout the world will not only enhance individual personal and career goals but will contribute to the business, social, economic, and educational needs of our society. Acacia University will be recognized as a premier program for those who desire to earn a certificate or degree while expanding and deepening their understanding of a profession and/or applying their skills in the workforce.

Core Values

Excellence in teaching/learning by offering a high-quality and student-focused education

Organizational integrity by operating with the highest ethical standards

Diversity and civility by supporting multicultural understanding and maintaining respect for all learners and staff

Doctor of Education in Educational Leadership

- Program designed for graduate-level educators who are presently teachers or administrators in a school setting or have regular weekly access to a school and classrooms.
- Provides opportunities for educators to learn and develop skills and strategies in the areas of school management, education law, education finance, and instructional supervision to be effective leaders.
- The Ed.D. prepares educators for advanced professional responsibility and leadership in effectively organizing, planning, implementing, and evaluating staff and programs, addressing diverse school environments, and building and fostering effective learning communities.
- The 60 credits for the doctoral program do not include the Comprehensive Exam and four One-Day Virtual Residencies.
- The Comprehensive Exam is required after completing 27 or more course credits, including the International Virtual Leadership Residency, and prior to starting the dissertation research.
- The Comprehensive Exam is proctored and includes both written and oral components.
- The four One-Day Virtual Residencies are scheduled throughout the year to provide discussions and critical skills seminars for small groups and individuals. While no credit is given for these residencies, all VR objectives must be met within the guidelines, directions, and timelines provided.
- Failure to perform assignment tasks will result in repeating the residency.

Program Goal

The doctoral program develops scholar-practitioners who will learn and practice advanced skills in designing, implementing, and analyzing effective research-based strategies in school/district leadership so they can provide active, positive, and effective leadership in the school environment. All students enrolled in the Doctor of Education in Educational Leadership degree program will demonstrate and apply knowledge and skills related to PSEL and NELP standards.

- * Acacia University offers graduate degrees for educators to achieve their professional goals. Completion of a degree program in itself does not constitute having a professional credential. Professional certifications and licenses are governed by boards empowered via State laws and/or professional organizations and commissions. Therefore, Acacia programs are NOT a pathway to teacher licensures in the US.
- * This information is provided per U.S. Federal Regulations, 34 CFR § 668.50 (2016 Rules), 34 CFR § 668.43 (2019 Rules), and in compliance with the State Authorization Reciprocity Agreement (SARA) Manual version 19.2.
- * Acacia University is an approved institution of the National Council for State Authorization Reciprocity Agreements (NC-SARA) which allows the university to provide distance learning programs and coursework to students located in states other than Arizona. NC-SARA approval does not grant reciprocity or exemption from state professional licensing requirements.

This course addresses the knowledge and skills needed to provide systematic and systemic planning and implementation of strategic initiatives. Principles of school improvement, strategic planning, organizing for effectiveness, and on going involvement of stakeholders related to the educational institution are explored through individual and collaborative projects. The course focuses on the process of continuous review and evaluation of activities, which lead to improved results. The goal of this course is to learn action research methods and practice the process of continuous school improvement. Students will experience designing, conducting, analyzing, and presenting an action research project that demonstrates aspects of the school improvement process.

EDA549D: Principles of School Leadership and Management

Prerequisites	EDA539D	Credits	3	Course Length	8 weeks	Type	Core
---------------	---------	---------	---	---------------	---------	------	------

Required Textbook: The Principal: Creative Leadership for Excellence in Schools, 8e

This course presents a survey of research in leadership, management, and strategic planning. It also focuses on an in-depth study of knowledge and skills required to be an effective educational leader. The roles of the principal, district leaders, and school administrators are explored. This course highlights the role of the school principal as an instructional leader, with an emphasis on leadership skills and management abilities necessary to create a vibrant and successful school and educational community. Students will develop a knowledge base on the principal's role and responsibility in the areas of school and community relations, supervision of instruction, curriculum assessment and evaluation, administration of special services, human resource management, school facilities and fiscal management, and ethical and legal issues. Students will also learn how to apply strategies toward building positive school culture through stakeholder collaboration, working with diverse populations, and drawing from evidence-based strategic planning. Learning activities include reflective practice, activities and exercises, and analysis of case studies.

EDA559D Legal Issues in Education

---------------	---------	---------	---	---------------	---------	------	------

This is a seminar course in legal issues focusing on readings, research, discussions, and classroom/school observations that acquaint doctoral students with some of the current issues in the principles of school law. Independently and with a seminar group each student will engage in a seminar process to share, analyze, and gain understanding of current issues and research in legal foundations of public and nonpublic schools. This seminar will enrich professional experiences, through collaboration with other professionals, administrators, and peers. The experiences gained will give students a perspective on a range of services provided by schools in the areas of general education law, public laws influencing the administration of schools, and current issues in law related to classrooms, schools, districts, and individuals. Students will learn how to interpret the U.S. judicial and legislative systems and the formation of laws relating to public education. Students will also analyze current school practices from the standpoint of potential legal controversies. By the end of the course, students will be able to analyze school legal problems by considering legal and ethical implications.

EDA569D Understanding Education Finance

Prerequisites EDA529D Credits 3 Course Length 8 weeks Type Core

Required Textbook: Financing Education in a Climate of Change, 13e

In this course, education funding, financial management, and the economics of education are addressed. Sources of revenue and the administering of a school budget are explored and compared among a variety of educational institutions. Students will develop an understanding of the fundamental issues of education finance by examining sources of revenue on federal, state, and local levels, and weigh the economic, social, and legal considerations necessary for allocating and managing funding. Students will also learn about approaches and procedures for budgeting, forecasting budgets, managing business operations, the reporting and auditing of funds, and issues specific to funding special education and school choice.

EDA600D: International Virtual Leadership Residency

Prerequisites All 500-level courses Credits 3

Course Length 1 weeks Type Core

The International Virtual Leadership Residency will occur online during a one-week period. This residency will allow students to meet with faculty members; enhance writing, research, and critical-thinking skills; share experiences and insights with students with similar interests; and work directly with cohort members.

EDA649D: Advanced Leadership and Effective Decision Making

Prerequisites All 500-level courses Credits 6

Course Length 16 weeks Type Core

This course is designed to provide an in-depth study of leadership theories and research beginning with an historical overview of traditional approaches and showing how they have evolved over time, not only in education, but also surveying the science of administration and management as a profession in other fields, such as business, political and military and volunteer organizations. Candidates will learn about the philosophical and historical foundations of various approaches. Particular attention will be given to current leadership and administrative practices in educational settings, such as visionary leadership, servant leadership, inclusive and collaborative leadership, empowerment, and leadership in an increasingly diverse environment both within, and external to, educational organizations.

EDA679D: Foundations of American Education

Prerequisites All 500-level courses Credits 6

Course Length 16 weeks Type Core

Required Textbook: Foundations of American Education, 8e

This course explores the influences on education within the larger social, political, economic, legal and cultural environment – from the local community to the global settings. A brief overview is included of the historical, philosophical, and social foundations of education and the role of schooling in a democratic society. Most candidates will have familiarity with such foundational theories from prior degree programs. Familiarity with school structures and governance at various levels provides understanding of the context in which education takes place. This includes school site and local communities; the role of elected school boards, superintendents, and other administrators; the functions of intermediary agencies, such as county or regional offices of education; education as a constitutional state responsibility, including development of laws and policies; the evolving role of the federal government; and a perspective on education in our world, our global community.

EDA709D: Online Internship for Educational Leaders

Prerequisites All 500-level courses Credits 3

Course Length 16 weeks Type Core

The Online Internship class involves learning and implementing mentoring skills online to students in educational administration classes. This online internship is arranged by the course professor with other instructors/professors in the master's or doctoral administration courses. The Doctoral Program Advisor oversees the Online Internship and oversees the supervision of the Doctoral Intern. The internship encompasses classroom and/or online observations and mentoring, demonstrations, modeling, feedback, and practice applying prior learned skills and knowledge in educational leadership. Application of the PSEL and NELP standards is required. The experience also includes research, analysis, surveys, interviews, discussions with others, and the maintenance of an e-portfolio. Regularly scheduled online meetings with the professor are scheduled at mutually agreed upon times. Experience gained in the Online Internship, as recorded in the e-portfolio, will be summarized and presented in a final report.

EDA710D: Onsite Internship for Educational Leaders

Prerequisites All 500-level courses Credits 6

Course Length 21 weeks/270 clock hours Type Core

The Onsite Internship involves an administrative Internship of 21 weeks. The Internship is arranged by Acacia University in cooperation with a school administrator where the internship will occur. The internship focuses on an individualized applied project determined by the Graduate Intern, the cooperating school principal and/or district administrator, and the Doctoral Program Advisor. The Onsite Internship requires 270 clock hours of experience under the supervision of a certified school or district administrator. The internship encompasses classroom observations and mentoring, demonstrations, modeling, feedback, and practice applying prior learned skills. Application of the PSEL and NELP standards is required. The experience also includes research, analysis, surveys, interviews, discussions with others, and the maintenance of an e-portfolio. The onsite experience will involve school or district-related administrative projects planned cooperatively with the principal/administrator and the online professors. Regularly scheduled online meetings with the professor and with the onsite administrator will be scheduled at mutually agreed upon times. Experience gained in the Onsite Internship will be summarized and presented in a final Internship report.

EDA718D: Advanced Research Methods

Prerequisites All 500-level courses Credits 6

Course Length 16 weeks Type Core

Required Textbook: Educational Research: Planning, Conducting and Evaluating Quantitative and Qualitative Research, 6e This course will include foundational elements for conducting independent, original research. Candidates will learn about methods of formative and summative evaluation for continuous improvement of practices in the educational environment. Candidates will also apply concepts and practice skills in research design, data collection, data analysis, and presentation of results. Students will also be presented with topics in Evaluation Research, Data Analysis and Interpretation, Qualitative and Quantitative Research Methods, Approaches to Research Design and Data Analysis, and Statistical treatment of data.

EDA719D: Action Research Proposal

Prerequisites EDA718D Credits 6 Course Length 16 weeks Type Capstone

The purpose of this seminar is to provide information and support for students as they develop dissertation proposals for the Ed.D. in Educational Leadership program. Students will also apply concepts and practice skills in research design. Students will develop and refine their action research topics and ideas, write drafts of their proposals, and establish a doctoral committee of four committee members. This course refreshes doctoral candidates on the basic concepts of action research, focusing on conducting literature reviews, understanding theory, defining research problems and methods, collecting and analyzing data, communicating findings, and applying research to solving educational problems. In addition, students should be able to understand the purposes, assumptions, and logic inherent in research methodologies.

EDA720D: Action Research Dissertation

Prerequisites EDA719D Credits 6 Course Length 16 weeks Type Capstone

Action Research Dissertation is intended to assist the Doctoral Candidate (DC) in the transition from coursework to dissertation. The outcome of this course is the completion of a dissertation that contributes to educational knowledge. The doctoral candidate will select a topic of interest based on an educational issue or problem and critically analyze and evaluate existing knowledge. Action research will be conducted to examine the problem. Conclusions based on findings should include implications for better educational practice. This course will review proposal components, with particular emphasis on research design and developing the literature review and will also focus on key issues such as dissertation format standards, psychological and time management demands, HSI/RB topics, and project management.

Note: Students may end up taking more units of dissertation (EDA7201D) credit than they can count toward their degree because students must register for the dissertation continuation course each eight-week session while working on their dissertation. Students must complete their dissertation within five years of completing 600-level courses.

Accreditation and Licensure

Distance Education Accrediting Commission (DEAC)

Acacia University is accredited by the Distance Education Accrediting Commission (DEAC). The U.S. Department of Education lists the Distance Education Accrediting Commission as a nationally recognized accrediting agency.

The Distance Education Accrediting Commission is recognized by the Council for Higher Education Accreditation (CHEA).

Additionally, Acacia University is licensed by the Arizona State Board for Private Postsecondary Education. The Board licenses and regulates over 200 private postsecondary educational institutions operating vocational and degree programs. These private universities, colleges, and vocational schools serve approximately 265,544 students annually. Arizona schools provide education and training to students in Arizona, across the nation and around the world. The Board has two primary programs: Licensing and Regulation and the Student Tuition Recovery Fund. It also acts on license applications, determines compliance, investigates complaints and violations, and takes disciplinary action. The Board has developed partnerships with other City, State, and Federal agencies to facilitate the dissemination of information.

State Authorization Reciprocity Agreement (SARA) The State Authorization Reciprocity Agreement is an agreement among member states, districts, and territories establishing comparable national standards for the interstate offering postsecondary distance education courses and programs. SARA membership makes it easier for students to take online courses offered by postsecondary institutions based in another state.

Acacia University is an approved institution of the National Council for State Authorization Reciprocity Agreements (NC-SARA) which allows the university to provide distance learning programs and coursework to students located in states other than Arizona. NC-SARA approval does not grant reciprocity or exemption from state professional licensing requirements.

CAEL Membership

Acacia University is a proud member of the Council for Adult and Experiential Learning (CAEL), which was founded in 1974 to help organizations succeed by providing expertise, resources, and solutions that effectively support adult learners as they navigate on an off-ramp between education and employment. To complement its pioneering work to support adult learners and learning recognition, in the 1990s, CAEL expanded its mission to include workforce development and the mutually beneficial links between curricula and careers that are so vital to the success of learners and communities they live and work in. Through collaboration with educators, employers, and community leaders, CAEL's nonprofit mission has become a national movement to ensure that every adult can navigate lifelong learning and career pathways that fuel social mobility and equitable prosperity. Today, CAEL supports adult learner success at more than 300 postsecondary institutions, employers, and government agencies in the U.S. and abroad.

ACE Membership

Acacia is now a proud member of the American Council on Education (ACE). The American Council on Education (ACE) is a membership organization that mobilizes the higher education community to shape effective public policy and foster innovative, high-quality practice. As the major coordinating body for the nation's colleges and universities, their strength lies in the diverse membership of more than 1,700 colleges and universities, related associations, and other organizations in America and abroad. ACE is the only major higher education association to represent all types of U.S. accredited, degree-granting institutions: two-year and four-year, public and private. ACE members educate two out of every three students in all accredited, degree-granting U.S. institutions. Since its founding in 1918, ACE has spearheaded programs, advocated for legislation, and led initiatives that have shaped the nation's postsecondary landscape.

CONIES Membership

Acacia University has been granted membership in the Council on International Higher Education Supervision (CONIES). CONIES-ICHE Board of Accreditation is recognized by the founding member universities of CONIES Confederación Internacional de Educación Superior, accredited by the BQS Board of Quality Standards (INQAAHE member) as Management System Certification Body (ISO 17021). CONIES is a member of INQAAHE and APQN. The Board is acting in full independence from the founding member universities, and the autonomy is reflected in the development of its assessment functions.

CONIES has emerged as the COUNCIL ON INTERNATIONAL HIGHER EDUCATION SUPERVISION, offering two types of quality assurance certifications and accreditations to member universities: Quality Management System certification and Programme Accreditation.

Registered under WES

Acacia University is officially registered with World Education Services (WES) and assigned a designated ID number (4671). This number is a unique identifier that allows WES to easily verify and evaluate the credentials of students who have attended or graduated from Acacia University.

Founded in 1974, WES, based in New York, is a renowned nonprofit organization that provides credential evaluations to students. Its mission is to help international students and professionals achieve academic and professional goals by providing accurate and reliable credential evaluations. WES evaluates academic transcripts, degrees, and other qualifications from institutions worldwide to ensure that they meet the standards of U.S. educational institutions and employers.
